

There will be a meeting of the Albert Einstein High School Student Council on Monday afternoon at 2:30 pm during which they will discuss upcoming plans to launch their new internet Web site.

The Student Council will discuss launching its new website at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Competing on November 24th in the National Science Bowl will be junior Jim Daniels and senior Gloria Bailey. The competition will be held in Chicago, Illinois.

Senior Gloria Bailey and junior Jim Bailey will compete in the National Science Bowl, Nov. 24 in Chicago.

On Monday, Bill Thomas, who is a senior right here at Albert Einstein High School, took top honors in the “New Jersey Student Journalist of the Year” contest, which was sponsored by the Newark Star Ledger.

Senior Bill Thomas was named “Texas Student Journalist of the Year” Monday by the Dallas Morning News.

The Albert Einstein High School National Honor Society held its first meeting at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday afternoon in the library. At the meeting, the members of the NHS voted to cancel its Halloween dance. They voted to do this because no members of the NHS could find dates. The dance was originally scheduled for the 29th of October.

Because its members could not find dates, the NHS canceled the Oct. 29 Halloween dance.

Rick Mount, who advises the yearbook, tendered his resignation after school officials made an investigation of yearbook expenditures and determined that Mount had spent just about nine hundred dollars on Natalie Portman posters for the journalism room.

Yearbook adviser Rick Mount resigned after school officials learned he had spent approximately $900 on Natalie Portman posters for the journalism room.

When asked about the game next week, Head Boy's Basketball Coach Gary Morgan revealed to this reporter that he feels our Varsity team will be ready to battle their opponents, the Google High Geeks.

The boys varsity basketball team will be ready for next week's game against Google High, head coach Gary Morgan said.

Our own Fighting Physicists won the game that they played last Friday against the hated Google High Geeks by the final score of 52-34. Junior Stanley Gray led the team with a high individual total of 24 points scored.

Junior Stanley Gray scored 24 points in leading the Physicists to a 52-34 win over Google High, Friday.

According to Editor Luanne Jenkins, to cover meaningful news and meeting its deadlines are the 2 main goals of this year's Newspaper Staff.

Covering meaningful news and meeting deadlines are the newspaper staff's two goals, editor Luanne Jenkins said.

The Albert Einstein debate club competed Saturday in the Garden City Invitational Speech Tournament and placed third overall in the competition. Joe Smith, senior, won the tournament's top prize, the "Golden Hammer Award."

Senior Joe Smith won the "Golden Hammer Award," and the Debate Club took third place at the Garden City Invitational Speech Tournament Saturday.

The Albert Einstein High School Band will be hosting their annual Spaghetti Dinner Tuesday night. The dinner will be held in the school cafeteria from 6:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. that evening.

The band will host its annual Spaghetti Dinner from 6-9 p.m. Tuesday in the cafeteria.

Dr. Carol Walker, principle, will be attending the National School Administrators Assn. convention in the city of New York next month. “Its my 1st time to go to New York, I can’t wait,” stated Mrs. Taylor, Ph.D.

Principal Carol Walker will attend the National School Administrators Association convention in New York City next month.

“It’s my first time to go to New York,” Dr. Taylor said. “I can’t wait.”

Last week, the AEHS french club held a fund-raiser, the club raised over 1200.00 dollars. The money will be used to defray costs of a trip to Paris, France during the month of March. The club raised money by selling croissants before school classes began in the morning each day.

By selling croissants before class last week, the French Club raised more than $1,200 to defray costs of their March trip to Paris.